

TARIFF QUESTIONS UNDER DISCUSSION

SENATE TAKES UP DISCUSSION OF PROBLEMS WHICH CONFRONT THEM.

NO CHANGES APPARENT

President Wilson Feels Confident That the Measure As Originally Designed Will Be Passed.

Washington, May 13.—The tariff fight was resumed today in the senate on the motion of Senator Penrose to refer the Underwood bill to the finance committee with instructions for public hearings.

Chairman Simmons of the finance committee was busy early in the day urging all patriotic members to be on hand in case the question should come to a vote and he felt confident that the republican first move against the majority would be checked.

Some republicans who have declared that they would not support the Penrose amendment argued that hearings on a tariff for revenue bill would not bring about the bill written from a protective standpoint they would favor hearings. Senator Penrose and other republican senators plan to talk on the amendment at length when the senate convenes and the likelihood is that it might be some days before a vote was reported.

President Wilson has taken the position that he ought not commit himself in any way with respect to numerous Penrose amendments the tariff bill suggested by democrats.

Secretary Redfield had a half hour's talk with the president before the cabinet meeting today and declared he believed no changes would be made, but that if the president consented to certain ones he would be besieged with requests to open up other schedules.

Senator Simmons declared today that many manufacturers had notified him they did not want open hearings. The senator said the finance sub-committee were making some changes, but that they were not material.

Reduction of the proposed duty of 13 per cent on structural steel to 9 per cent is said to have been considered.

JOHNSON'S DEFENSE IS PRESENTED TODAY

They lived at separate hotels said Luppkin.

NO FURTHER PROTEST AGAINST ALIEN LAW

Japanese Ambassador Will Make No Further Protest—Japan Awaits Government's Attitude if Bill is Passed.

Washington, May 13.—The Japanese ambassador will take no further steps in the protest against the California anti-alien land law until Gov. Johnson acts upon the bill before him. The ambassador has learned today that Japan without making further representations to the state department will wait a reasonable time to learn what the federal administration intends to do to meet its complaint against the measure.

ROOSEVELT EXTENDS AID TO YOUNG MAN

Theodore Roosevelt Aids Young Man Who Has Hand Hurt While in City's Employment to Recover Damages.

New York, May 13.—Theodore Roosevelt came to the aid today of Owen Egan, the city's expert on explosives who has been unable to get the city to pay his doctor bill for severe injury to his hand suffered in opening a bomb sent to Judge Otto Roskoffsky. The ex-president wrote to the city comptroller urging that Egan be paid his medical expenses of $385 and that some way will be found to enable Egan to get a new hand for promotion and become eligible for a pension. Col. Roosevelt's sympathy for Egan was enlisted by the colonel's cousin, Phillip J. Roosevelt, a young newspaper man.

HIT DUPLICATION OF RURAL PHONES

Madison, May 13.—The assembly went on record today as opposing any duplication of telephone companies in rural districts by enacting the Kneen bill requiring companies to secure a certificate of necessity from the railroad commission before building. The present law prohibits the duplication in cities but the Kneen bill extends the principle to towns.

The line-up of the senate on the Ekern-McGovern controversy is thought to be fairly distinguished by its action today in giving the circuit court power to remove any order or removal made by the governor or the supreme court, in case such officer was appointed with the senate's consent. The vote was 15 to 12. The nomination of P. Host as state fire marshal was tabled upon motion of Senator Skogmo.

The Gerrecki bill forbidding the sale of liquor on school property was laid on the foot of the calendar.

CRIMINOLOGY REFORM MEASURE IS KILLED

Assembly Votes Non-Concurrence in Habitual Criminal Act—Other Legislative Affairs.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., May 13.—The Stevens bill for a habitual criminals' act, one of the two large criminology measures advocated strongly by the state board of correction, met its death in the assembly last night, where the vote which it previously was conceded in was reconsidered and the bill non-concurred in. Assemblymen and Don C. Hatz spoke for it, provided that a person convicted twice of a felony, or five times for misdemeanors, may be confined as an habitual criminal for a sentence without the discretion of the board of correction.

Assemblymen Koska and Estabrook tried unsuccessfully to pass the bill designed to prevent marriages of inmates. It failed by a close vote. It provides that marriages of Wisconsin residents contracted in another state which are prohibited by the Wisconsin laws shall be void.

Assemblymen Hatz and Estabrook, and that the license fees shall be subject to a fine not exceeding $1,000 for knowingly leading their officers to carry out such illegal plans.

Among the bills introduced was the Nye bill appropriating $10,000 to send a commission to represent Wisconsin at the Norwegian national exposition at Christiania, next year. The Hinkel bill requiring that in Milwaukee school teachers signing contracts to teach thereby are assumed to have accepted the provisions of the teachers' retirement fund law and providing that the school directors shall pay one percent of the school teachers' retirement fund, and the Nye bill empowering county boards to adopt and improve designated roads as trunk roads.

Refused Salary Increase. The senate refused to raise the state game warden's salary from $2,000 to $2,500 was non-concurred in. The assembly concurred in Senator Bosshard's bill appropriating $50,000 annually for state aid to county tuberculosis hospitals and fixing the allowance per patient at $5 per week. The same action was taken on Senator H. C. Martin's bill providing that the commitment of felons, if for one year or more, shall be to the state prison or state reformatory.

Third reading was ordered for a bill by the committee on state affairs prohibiting non-residents from fishing in inland waters of the state with seine, fyke, hoop net or turtle net. The bill was introduced by Senator Richardson and gave power to town meetings to regulate the moving of traction and steam engines on highways was laid over until Wednesday, as was the bill to make the office of insurance commissioner elective.

Listless Senate Session. Without even the suggestion of a debate the senate put through a score of assembly bills and engrossed bills. The senate unanimously endorsed the Axel Johnson, joint resolution memorializing congress to pass Senator La Follette's bill in congress for an easier method of amending the constitution. The La Follette bill provides that upon application of the legislatures of ten states for a certain constitutional amendment the question of the adoption of the amendment must be submitted to the people at the next general election. As the Johnson memorial has now passed both houses it will be forwarded to congress.

Must Publish Proceedings. The senate passed the following bills: Nye—Requiring the publication of the proceedings under the commission form of government cities in newspapers. Hinkel—All persons in line when the time for the closing of the polls has arrived shall be permitted to vote. Rhen—County superintendents shall hold examinations in two different places in counties at least twice a year. Litz—The financial budget in cities of the first class shall be made up in October for the following year. T. A. Stewart—Railroad commission may require the building of what are called along railroad tracks, instead of barb wire fences. Bingham—The state shall license and bond all private employment agencies.

Now Up To Governor. Laycock—Common councils may permit streets to be sprinkled with oil. Minkley—The profits of the municipal water plant in Milwaukee may be expended for sewerage construction. The bill was introduced by Laycock through the lower house and will now go to the governor. The senate engrossed the Sharp bill to permit the wages of convicts to be used to support those dependent upon them. The bill provides that the state shall pay the expenses of farmers attending the short course in agriculture at the university and the Conway bill to permit cities, villages and towns to purchase the bonds of a private utility.

APPLETON WATER CO. FIGHTS COMMISSION

Arguments in Appeal Taken From Lower Court by Railway Commission Heard in Supreme Court.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., May 13.—Arguments were heard by the supreme court today on the appeal of the railroad commission of Wisconsin from a judgment of the circuit court requiring the commission to amend its order fixing the compensation for the Appleton Water Works plant at $255,000. This is the price which the commission said the plant under the public utility act. The case came before the court on cross appeals, the company appealing from the part of the judgment which said that in respect to other than the proposed altering of the award the compensation fixed by the commission is lawful. The company claimed the commission did not lawfully consider and give effect to the going concern value of the plant.

Held Order Unlawful. The case was presented by Deputy Attorney General Walter Drew for the railroad commission, with George G. Joene and Jerome K. North of Green Bay of counsel.

The company surrounded its franchise in 1907 and took an indeterminate permit, and a year later J. A. Finnes was appointed receiver. Thereafter the city voted to purchase the plant. The railroad commission fixed the compensation at $255,000. This was paid. The lower court held this order unlawful on the ground it did not include any value or sum for the indeterminate permit, any interest on the $255,000 from the date of the surrender of the plant to the city two months later; anything for the cost of trenching over service pipes, and anything for any cost of trenching to lay 25 service pipes. The lower court held that such extra compensation should be included, and that the company did not waive the right of appeal by accepting the $255,000.

Counsel for the state argued today that the indeterminate permit was not unlawfully excluded in the valuation, that the company's franchise expired by its terms when the city exercised the option to buy. Based on the remaining claims for extra compensation were disposed of with declarations of their invalidity. It was argued that by accepting the award the company waived its right to challenge its lawfulness by appeal.

Answering the company's claim in the latter's appeal, the commission argued today that the going value element was given due consideration in fixing the award, and that the cost of trenching, and the cost of laying 25 service pipes, as evidence of value, should be estimated at present prices of labor and materials.

It is expected the rehearing in the case of Ekern vs. McGovern will be held immediately after the Appleton case. It will probably be reached tomorrow.

RACINE GIRL FAILS IN ELOPEMENT PLAN

Daughter of John Olie, Wealthy Manufacturer, Thwarted by Father in Attempt to Marry Chaffeur.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Waukegan, Illinois, May 13.—"My daughter has just eloped with a man in a racing car and they are on their way to Waukegan to be married. Stop them, or I will sue you for $10,000 as soon as possible in my automobile."

The foregoing telephone message was received shortly after midnight by the Waukegan police from John Olie, a wealthy foundry man at Racine.

Several hours later an automobile dashed up to the city hall and Joe Jaegersberger, 28 years old, an employee of the J. L. Case and Company, said Olie, 18 years old, jumped from the car and inquired for a minister, explaining that they desired to be married as soon as possible. They were detained and an hour later Olie was taken to the city hall.

"Am I in time?" he anxiously inquired. "Yes, we have the couple in line," replied a policeman. Olie was angry and after a heated interview with the policeman, the father took his daughter back home.

"I have been expecting this for several weeks," said Olie. "My daughter has been keeping company with this man and I knew the moment she came to town she would be in trouble. I have been expecting this for several weeks. Last night after we had retired I was awakened by a noise I went to my daughter's room and found she had fled. A moment later I heard an automobile outside and came to the conclusion that they planned an elopement. I telephoned the Waukegan police, jumped into my car and followed them."

The father, who is a daring automobile driver, lost a leg a year ago in an accident at Columbia, S. C.

More bananas are now being consumed in Europe than ever before. The competition of the United States in New Orleans bananas from the chief food of the poor. "The primary purpose of the banquet is to 'get together' the different elements of the republican party of this state. The republican party in Wisconsin has not outlived its usefulness. It will continue to be the dominating party. It is a source of regret to me that there should have been any friction between those arranging the banquet and our governor. Francis McGovern belongs with the republican party. I hope to see him stay with it. I hope he will reconsider his decision to remain away from the banquet tomorrow night."

CLAIM MAN WITH AX WAS BENT ON MURDER

Appleton Police Take Credit For Preventing a Tragedy But Offender Escapes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Appleton, May 13.—Using the ambulance as a patrol wagon, believed by police to have prevented murder in the fourth ward last night. The ambulance was at the St. Elizabeth hospital on the south side of the river when word came to the station that Frank Winkle and his son were after Joseph Pauley with an axe. The latter lived near the hospital and Acting Chief Michael Garvey telephoned there instructing the officers on the wagon to take up the case. Just previous to that Winkle had made his boast that he was not afraid of the police.

Upon arriving at Pauley's house the officers saw Winkle in the act of breaking through a window to gain entrance. He saw the wagon approaching and made off in the dark, and was not found during the night. During the day the two men had quarreled over opening a road on the outskirts of the city. The police were summoned and Garvey had the two on the carpet at the city hall. He thought the difficulty when they parted. Later it developed that Winkle who has had a bad cold record, renewed the fight and apparently intended doing away with his neighbor. Winkle has been here more than any one man in the city. His feud with Pauley is of long standing.

ANNIVERSARY PLANS OF TRINITY CHURCH NEARLY COMPLETED

Bishop Webb to be Present—Former Rectors Invited—Celebration Begins Sunday, June 15.
Trinity Episcopal parish will on Sunday, June 15, celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the consecration of the church building, and the sixtieth anniversary of the organization of the parish. Plans for their observance are nearly completed, and the many arrangements remaining to be made. The celebration will continue through most of the week, and it will be made as nearly as possible a reunion of the present and past members of the parish. Bishop Webb of the diocese of Milwaukee will be present and invitations to attend will be sent to all the former rectors of the church now living.

The anniversary will open with a corporate communion for all members of the parish to be held at nine o'clock in the morning. Bishop Webb acting as celebrant. The Bishop will also deliver the sermon at the service held at 10:30 o'clock. Holy eucharist will be offered as an act of thanksgiving for the many blessings bestowed upon the parish. In the evening Bishop Webb will administer the sacrament of confirmation to a class of candidates for admission to the church. On the Monday evening following, a reception and homecoming banquet will be held. The place has not yet been decided upon. Bishop Webb will remain for the banquet and with former rectors, the present rector, vestrymen and parishioners, take part in the post-prandial program. Other affairs planned for anniversary week is a reunion of the members of St. Agnes Guild, a sectional conference of the Woman's Auxiliary, a party for the Sunday school children, and a choir reunion and smoker. Several services will be held for departed members of the parish and former rectors who have passed away.

The congregation have pledged themselves to the payment of a long-standing debt of $500. One of the pledges is a daily payment of those remaining. It is also hoped that sufficient contributions will come in to place two new windows in the church to be blessed at the time of the anniversary. One of the windows is to be a memorial for the loved ones at rest and it is expected that the other window will be given by persons who have been confirmed in Trinity church as the subject in a confirmation scene. The plan adopted when the first window was placed was that each window should carry out in design some special teaching of the church such as baptism, confirmation, holy communion, the ministry, the incarnation, and the ascension. All but those representing confirmation and ascension are in place.

The rectory has been painted both inside and out in preparation for the celebration. It is hoped that donations will make it possible to announce further improvements in the parish property at that time. An historical souvenir book will be published in connection with the anniversary and will contain the photographs of the rectors and bishops, besides interesting information concerning the parish.

Center, May 13.—The recent rain was thoroughly appreciated by the farmers as the ground had become very dry and lumpy, making it difficult to fit the land suitable for planting corn.

SCIENTISTS HONOR THE FIRST BIRDMAN

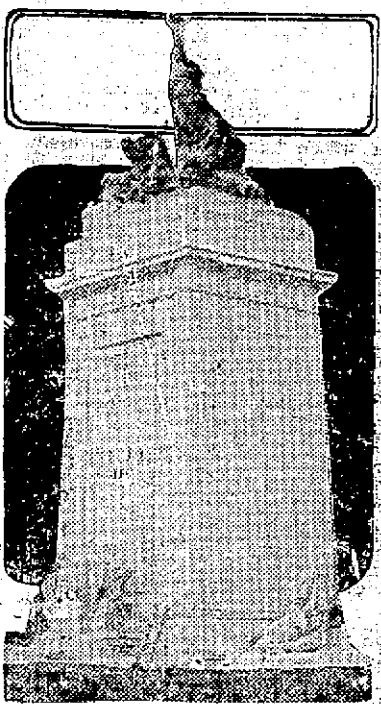

Prof. Samuel P. Langley.

After an interval of seventeen years, scientific America has at last paid a belated tribute to the memory of Samuel P. Langley, the first man in the world to fly in an airplane, by erecting in his honor a bronze memorial tablet in the Smithsonian Institution. The tablet is four and a half feet long and two and a half feet wide.

Langley flew in a machine of his own making on the 6th of May, 1896. His great feat received little recognition at that time.

ST. PAUL INSTALLING GAS MOTOR CARS ON SHORT RUNS

In experimenting with the efficiency of the new gas motor cars that the St. Paul is installing in the west, the officials of the road are planning to put in operation numerous motor cars on three of the divisions in Wisconsin. At the present time the runs between Corliss, Waukesha, Watertown and Milwaukee are being equipped with the necessary supplies to start running the cars before July first.

The propelling power of the cars is by a gas motor and it is declared by the railroad men that they are more economical and can make faster time than the coal burning locomotive. The cars are seventy feet long and are capable of holding enough passengers to insure good transportation to Milwaukee.

If the cars prove their worth more will undoubtedly be placed in service and it is expected that Janesville will have one or more of these cars to accommodate the enormous amount of passenger traffic that the St. Paul road has to Milwaukee from this city.

SOO LINE FLAGMEN TO IMPROVE BEAUTY OF CITIES

With the idea of improving the appearance of the right-of-way along their line the officials of the Soo line have distributed flower seeds to every flagman on their lines with the strict orders to plant and care for them. It will mean a better impression of the thousands of people who travel on their lines besides adding beauty to the city itself.

The Soo line is probably the first to start this movement and if railroads throughout the country would take similar steps great benefit would be had. In England, where the tracks of the railroads are governed by strict laws, the land along the railroad is used to cultivate plants and also some grains. Such a step by the St. Paul and Northwestern roads would not be without praise from the citizens of the cities along their routes.

Re-sod Ground: A week's work by a number of section men in re-sodding the ground about the Northwestern station has resulted in the bettering of the appearance of the station by a large per cent. Strips of sod were obtained at the yards and brought to the depot on a car. Nearly one-half of the plot of grass around the station was taken up and the new sod put down. People walking on the grass before it had a good start to grow, and careless drivers running over the edges has resulted in wearing down large portions of the lawn. Being aided by the recent rains the newly planted grass bed should mature fast and combined with the scrubbers should make a good impression upon the traveler.

Large stones have been placed along the driveways to keep the drivers from destroying the corners of the repaired lawn.

Spend Less Time In The Kitchen

Let the "Caloric" Do Your Cooking

THERE'S absolutely no need of you spending so much time in the Kitchen preparing the three daily meals. You can just as well have more time for other, more important things.

By the ordinary method of cooking you spend fully two-thirds of the day in the Kitchen. This is entirely unnecessary if you will use a

CALORIC FIRELESS COOKSTOVE

It cooks better, with absolutely no attention, cooks more thoroughly—more appetizingly; retains all the goodness—all the tissue and strength building qualities of the foods. None is lost by evaporation in boiling away. No unpleasant cooking odor, no burning or scorching.

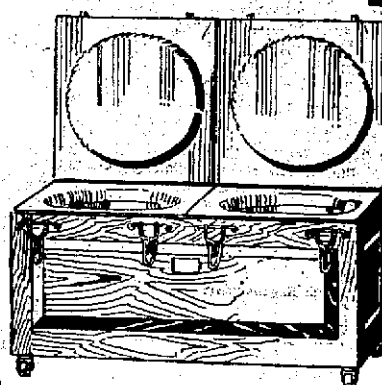

The less expensive and toughest meats are cooked far better and more tender by the "Caloric" method. The "Caloric" not only boils and stews but it bakes and roasts, even better than can be accomplished by any ordinary stove and costs less to operate.

Come to the "Caloric" demonstration on the date mentioned below and bring your friends.

For ten years the most potent personage on the diamond, the erratic Rube Waddell has passed from the game's brightest star. He has fallen until now he cannot make good in a class C league. Waddell was the most noted freak of baseball when in his prime. He had the frame of a giant and a ten thousand dollar arm, but the mentality of a child. In his halcyon days he could assimilate from one to three quarts of liquor a day and yet pitch unhittable ball.

FT. ATKINSON PACE TOO SLOW FOR BOY

Nine Year Old Harold Merrill Runs Away to This City to Seek Stirring Adventures.

Life in Ft. Atkinson was too prosaic, unromantic and wanting in stirring adventures for nine year old Harold Merrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Merrill of that city, and yesterday, after drawing out of the bank all his savings, totaling $5.35, he packed a trunk for his journey to the city of Chicago to play the part of a youthful Croesus and realize his ambition to become an Indian brava. On arriving in the city he made the rounds of the stores, purchasing a small tent, an Indian suit, a fireman's cap and an electric flash light. With this equipment he moved to the lot between the Sheridan and European hotels and pitched his tent.

In the meanwhile Harold's absence from home was discovered and the chief of police at Ft. Atkinson telegraphed Chief of Police Appleby to look for him as he was believed to have come here. He was informed that the boy carried a bank book and soon found on inquiries at Safady's restaurant that a boy answering the description had been seen there. Harold was found and together with his belongings was taken to the police station. His father and the Ft. Atkinson chief of police were notified and came down in an automobile about six o'clock and took him home. Harold had but twenty cents left out of his savings. He was entirely unconcerned and refused to be frightened when the police told him that he might be locked up for several days. Janesville suited him much better than Ft. Atkinson.

CORN CONTEST ENTRIES CLOSE

The Big Race For Gazette Prizes Is On.

A LITTLE EARLY TO PICK THE WINNERS BUT WHO DO YOU THINK WILL CAPTURE THE PRIZE PRIZE.

The last day for entering the Gazette Corn Contest closed Saturday and the boys have settled down now to the real work of prize winning. Several boys have asked personal questions of Mr. Raessler regarding soil preparation and other matters relative to the planting and general care of the corn. Mr. Raessler is glad to answer all questions and to assist personally, if need be, any boy who requires assistance. Most of the boys have shown a keen insight into the soil preparation, selection of land, fertilization, etc., and there is little question but that there will develop in this contest some of the best corn producers in the United States. Inspection will be made at intervals by Mr. Raessler of the various fields and his articles will continue to appear in the Gazette instructing and explaining the various ideas which are essential to successful corn growing.

A list of the contestants is given here and will be printed frequently. Look them over and see if you can pick the winners.

May 13, 1913.—The area of low barometer in the Southwest, which was seemingly of the stationary summer type has now moved northeastward over the southern Rockies, and is now advancing across the Plains, attended by showers and thunderstorms in the valleys of the Missouri and Platte rivers. The area of low barometer that was over Ontario yesterday has now advanced to the St. Lawrence valley. It caused rains in the upper Lake region during the past 24 hours. In this vicinity the weather will be cloudy and unsettled, with showers or thunderstorms tonight and Wednesday. There will be little change in temperature. Thunderstorms, with squalls, may be expected at any time and trail boats should be used with caution on the Lakes.

the crusade, influenced by purely selfish motives.

The advantages gained are so slight that they seem insignificant, when compared to the loss of a great industry. The ultimate consumer will continue to pay the old price for his paper, and when a Canadian monopoly controls the trade, the publisher can hardly expect reduced prices. The tariff is a many-sided proposition, and many lines of business, as well as many industries, will suffer, during the tinkering process.

NOT UNANIMOUS.

That the problem of the Japanese in California and the Golden State's attitude towards them by adverse legislation, is one of national importance to the whole nation, is certain. Press dispatches would give the impression that the whole of the state of California was up in arms against the Japs and that the state legislature was merely following out the unanimous wishes of the citizens as a whole. However it is apparent from editorial comment from leading California papers that this is not the fact. That the country as a whole must judge the eastern sister by its legislative actions any more than all of Wisconsin is to be judged by some of the fool legislation enacted by some of the states under the name of Reform, with a capital R, in the past. The San Francisco Chronicle, a republican newspaper, takes issue with its legislative in the following manner:

"In foisting upon this state such a bill as this alien law we are Quixotic. In our delusion we would sacrifice the prosperity of our fruit industry, impede the development of the state, leave the farmers' subsistence, put the stigma of race discrimination and injustice upon the state, interfere with our national administration and our foreign commerce, revoke the good will of a people and nation to whom we are bound by large commercial interests; we would make this sacrifice for the best of ignorance and prejudice and without correcting one defect, the clashing can only be remedied by a broader humanity and common understanding and the white race should be the first to acquire it. Such laws as this only add fuel to the flames and hinder progress."

What must other nations think of America to overlook such an act of injustice by a state? To permit a law to be so adroitly worded that it accomplishes its purpose without showing its hand. Only by this country permitting the Japanese the right to become citizens can we save our face. That they would make better citizens than the ignorant Europeans anyone who knows the two must confess. Educated in their own tongue, they keep abreast of the times through their own newspapers, and many have acquired facilities in using our language. The test should be educational, just as it should be with every other foreigner.

The constant harassing of and discrimination toward the Japanese will only work to our injury and dishonor. The eastern states will censure us for our injustice. They accept vaster race problems than ours without raising barriers. Other nations will join Japan in protesting against such discrimination, and the honor of the United States must precede the localism of California. Whether it is local, state or national, the welfare of society must precede the prejudice, ignorance, or greed of the few.

Japan, with restricted territory, of which not more than half is arable, is promulgating laws to give the rights of ownership to foreign residents, when such countries extend to them the same privileges. Thus, while she would open her little country to us, we would close our great country to her. While Japan would be progressive, California would be reactionary. Can California afford to be retrogressive on a matter of such world-wide significance? Are we not big and great enough to accord Japan equal privileges in commercial and human relations as we do to other countries? Can we be so blind to our own interests, our own self-respect, as to permit such injustice to be framed into our statutes. As a progressive state, ours should be a movement for softening prejudices, overcoming ignorance by disseminating knowledge, and promoting harmony between the different races that live among us and are equally serving the state.

The legislative committee which will decide whether the state fair is to be moved from Milwaukee or not, are to visit Fond du Lac, the Fox River Valley this week Friday, and will meet in Madison to make up their report. Janesville entertained these gentlemen last Friday and made a most favorable impression. It is no time to lie down on the proposition now and the suggestion that the entire legislature be invited here for the day to see just what Janesville has to offer, ought to be acted upon promptly. Adjacent cities will be glad to cooperate with us and the day can be made an event in the annals of the city. The fact that Janesville is the only applicant for the fair location that can bring the entire legislature to its midst as a visitor and return them to Madison on the same day should be worth considering.

Recently the council saw fit to enact some special automobile legislation relative to machines turning the corners, giving implicit rules as to how this should be accomplished. They were in conformation with rules in other cities and not obnoxious to machine owners elsewhere, but here in Janesville they are apparently violated through thoughtlessness day after day. The average pedestrians read the ordinance and guided their steps in crossing streets accordingly, but now they have to dodge about like chickens to avoid machines going this way and that and are more perplexed than ever. If the ordinance is a good one why not enforce it? If it is not good, why not repeal it?

Somebody ought to give Austria a true version of the story of Naboth's vineyard, so that the lesson might be thoroughly learned before it is too late.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

THE STRENGTH OF BEING GENTLE.

A number of Dutch scientists believe that they have demonstrated the immortality of the soul and have communicated with the dead.

They are not the first who have had such a belief, but they are among the first to carry out their investigations in a scientific way.

I did not start out to talk about the immortality of the soul, however, but about the strength of gentleness and the weakness of violence.

The Dutch scientists believe that they have got into communication with the souls of a number of departed Russian nihilists and of others who revolted against tyranny by using bloody measures against the tyrants. Here is one of the messages the scientists claim to have received from the beyond:

"We have changed our thoughts about revolutionary methods in this sphere. We know that good cannot be done by killing the czar or anybody. We believe us strongly as ever in the right of the people to rule themselves, but we know the goal to be attained can only be reached by the ways of love, gentleness and reason."

Now, that is good doctrine, whether it came from the souls of departed anarchists, from beyond the veil or from the brains of Dutch scientists yet in the flesh.

In fact, the best part of all revolutions has been attained by peaceful means. It was only the counter revolutions that were bloody.

Truth wins through gentleness.

The spreading of the light does not entail destruction or slaughter.

John the Baptist believed in attaining the kingdom of heaven by violence, but the Prince of Peace counseled the winning of it by love.

John was the last and greatest of the prophets of the old order, but the Nazarine was the first and greatest of the new.

The Great Teacher counseled non-resistance and the returning of good for evil.

Throughout the subsequent centuries the world has still followed John the Baptist in spirit, but now at last may we not begin to hope that it is turning to the Nazarene?

We have depended on force and violence for the most part, but now we know there is a better way.

We are learning the strength of being gentle.

CONTROL THE FLY

Swatting the Fly
A homesick fly got in our house
One day not long ago,
The family armed itself at once
And started for the foe.

Potato mashers, frying pans
And baseball bats we got,
And broomsticks and we started in
With might and main to swat.

We smashed three plate glass mirrors
And tore down the chandelier;
We broke a $40 vase,
And wrecked a jardiniere.

We shattered seven windows and Demolished statues;
We knocked down both the kitchen
stoves.

With many vain regrets,
We broke the goldfish globe and spread
Destruction in our path.

Our fighting blood was up and naught
Seemed to appease our wrath.

It seemed a shame to stop and think
What father's got to buy,
We swatted everything we could,
But didn't swat the fly.

Mr. Bilkins could not be found and in a few minutes there was another telephone call for Mr. Bilkins and the bellhop started on the rounds again until everybody in the hotel and on the street outside heard his name. The third call came for Mr. Bilkins and the operation was repeated.

"Who in tophet is this Mr. Bilkins?" asked one of the guests of the waiter.

"Oh he's the german they're telephoning for."

"Who telephones for him oo often?"

"Mr. Bilkins does, of course."

Tar Water.

The indorsement of a nostrum by a clergyman, above all by a bishop, has for hundreds of years been all that was necessary to obtain recognition for such a remedy from a believing public. Bishop Berkeley set all Britain to drinking tar water. Supposedly having received benefit from the use of tar water when ill of the colic he published a work on "The Virtues of Tar Water," on which he said he had bestowed more pains than on any of his productions and a few months before his death he published his last work, "Further Thoughts on Tar Water." That was in 1753. That tar water had not passed out of favor in rural England in the time of Charles Dickens, is made evident in a laughable incident in "Great Expectations," where Pip, by a substitution of tar water in a bottle of wine, gives Uncle Pumblechook, corn-chandler and seed-man, opportunity to take a long swig of Bishop Berkeley's cure-all, much to that eminent seedsman's astonishment and disgust.

Overheated Rooms.

"Why go south?" a convalescent was asked by a writer for the New York Evening Post. "Don't you think a cold climate would be more likely to brace you up?" Oh, I'm not going south to escape the cold," was the reply. "I'm going to escape the heat." A cryptic saying, but it embodies a simple truth. For it is only by going south that one can escape the most depressing of all forms of heat—the heat of overheated rooms. Overheating is the normal thing in all places where people are gathered together—in restaurants, theaters, railway cars, churches, libraries, and, for that matter, in private houses as well.

Rather Late.

"Does that young man who calls on your daughter stay very late?" "Rather. It's got so that I have to use the back door when I start out for work in the morning so as not to interrupt them saying good by to each other in the hall."

CARD OF THANKS

We take this way to thank our good kind neighbors and friends for their kindness and beautiful flowers in our sad bereavement.

Mrs. George Blunk and family.

Patriotism.

Our country is so big that we may sometimes feel that we cannot "take it all in." Well, that's just where the opportunity and the challenge lies. I must be large-hearted if I am going to measure up to my country, for, in that old oratorical phrase, she reaches from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico. To be a base-hearted man in America is worse than to be evil in any other country, and to throw away chances here is more unworthy than anywhere else in the world. It was a new call to me as I came back home from a continent spread out like a wheat field. I did not love Europe less, but I did love America more; and I think I had a right to do so. For it seemed to me at that moment as if I owed my land everything in me that could be called big or noble, or fair, or decent, or worth while.—St. Nicholas.

Same Speech Thirteen Years.

M. D. Andrimont, a member of the Belgian chamber, celebrated for his speeches on questions of the consular service, was appealing eloquently for a reorganization of the service when the foreign minister said: "That is the same speech you made last year." "Just so," replied the deputy calmly. "I have made it annually, word for word for thirteen years. Nobody noticed it before."

SEEKING TO COLLECT REASSESSMENT COST

State Treasurer Writes to Mr. Livermore Stating That Question Has Been Referred to Attorney General.

County Treasurer F. F. Livermore today received a letter from State Treasurer Henry Johnson with reference to the cost of the reassessment of the city of Janesville which the city refused to pay to the state. The letter states that the state has referred the matter to the attorney general for an opinion. Mr. Livermore in making his return to the state sent an affidavit to the effect that the city of Janesville refused to pay over the amount certified, and subsequently received a corrected statement from the state treasurer omitting the reassessment charge. Mr. Livermore had considered that the matter was then settled as far as the county was concerned. He acted on the advice of District Attorney Dunwiddie. The decision of the attorney general is awaited with interest.

RUSK LYCEUM GIVES MEDALS TO SENIORS

Harold Mohr, Benjamin Kulow and Ralph Soultman Honored by Society.

Last year, the Rusk Lyceum deemed it a great honor to award each of three senior members of the society who had made a record for themselves for the four years in school a medal as an appreciation of their good work, and have decided to continue the practice. Harold Mohr, Benjamin Kulow and Ralph Soultman were the three chosen from the present senior class. These students have been active workers in the society for the past few years, and received general average of eighty per cent in all of their studies. These young men, about to graduate, have all been leaders in school affairs. Harold Mohr and Benjamin Kulow were members of the victorious football team of last fall, and again they both secured places on the affirmative debating team who with the negative trio, captured the championship of the Beloit College. Harold Kulow secured a position on the basketball squad which made such a marvelous record.

Ralph Soultman distinguished himself as a cheer leader in school circles, and is at present president of the Rusk Lyceum. He also is a member of the Boys' Glee club of the school and as an extempore speaker he won honors.

A committee was selected by the Rusk for the purpose of selecting these three worthy members, and the committee chosen was as follows: Prof. Guy Curtis, chairman; Principal H. C. Buell, Ralph Soultman, Victor Hemmings, and Garnett McVicar.

Engage Principal for Night School.

Industrial School Elected C. F. Hill of Whitewater to Position Last Evening.

C. F. Hill, for the past thirteen years supervisor of manual training work in the Whitewater public schools was elected by the Board of Industrial Education last night, to the position of principal of the night school at the Industrial school.

Mr. Hill will also teach the eighth grade classes in manual training, having been elected to the manual training at the last meeting of the regular Board of Education. Mr. Hill will begin his work in Janesville tonight and will probably move here with his family soon after the close of the summer session of normal school in which he has been engaged to teach. His work at Whitewater has been very much appreciated and he comes to his new duties with the highest recommendations.

The Board feels that it has been very fortunate in obtaining his services.

During the initial year of the public school, H. C. Buell acted as its principal, but both institutions have developed so rapidly that it would have been impossible for him to devote sufficient time to them in the future without taking needed time from his work as Superintendent and Principal of the high school. No other members of the industrial school faculty had thus far. The other business before the Board was of a routine character.

Left Rugs as Security for License Payments.

Six Salesmen for Chicago Firm Come Unprepared to Pay Fees—Make City Clerk Custodian.

Two bright colored rugs of small size were locked in the vault at the city clerk's office last night in company with the bonds and other securities held by the city. The occasion for their presence in the vault was the inability of six rug salesmen from Chicago to pay the regular license fees.

Before the money to pay the fees could be secured, it would be necessary to telegraph to Chicago for money. As this would not arrive until some time today and they wished to work yesterday afternoon, they consented to leave the rugs as security for the payment of the fees. The rugs were returned upon payment.

ASPHALT MACADAM PAVING PROBABLE

Council Expected to Adopt Resolution For Its Use on Division Street At Meeting This Afternoon.

Asphalt macadam laid on Division street between St. Lawrence and Oakland avenues, at the regular meeting of the City Council, this afternoon. After listening to the expressed wishes of the owners of property abutting on that street, studying the question of cost and suitability to location and traffic requirements, the Council has decided that asphalt macadam will prove more satisfactory than concrete. Concrete would cost more and require a coat of bitumen to make it noiseless and water-proof. It is intended to use a standard natural asphalt, not a tar compound, and to have it soft enough so that the traffic on the street will force it to the surface as the pavement wears. In this way the street will remain comparatively dustless and not become noisy.

Sidewalks were ordered laid in front of lots on Garfield avenue between good street and Oakland avenue and on Sharon street. The usual bills were allowed. Little other business was to come up for consideration.

JAPAN AND HER RELATION TO CALIFORNIA LAND LAW

Discussed by Principal H. C. Buell in Address to High School.

"Why should the United States deny the Japanese their right to labor in this country was the subject Prof. Buell took this morning in talking to the students. He discussed the present situation. He said that he held that the California State should see that the United States doctrine of the brotherhood of man should prevail. At the rate the Japs are buying land in California now, it will be but a short time until the entire state will be owned by the yellow race. There has been much discussion concerning this great problem, now lying before the American people. Governor Johnson of California states, that if the Japanese held land in the Government should make them citizens of the United States.

The Japs have their own arguments too. They are trying to impress the races of people in the world. Japan scientists claim that these two races are designated by the shape of the skull, and as there are only the ear skull and the long skull in the present race, that these must be only these two races. They argue that their skulls are the same shape as Americans, and that only the Japanese and Americans belong to the long skull race. All other peoples are members of the flat skull race. The Jap scientists are trying to dodge the United States law, prohibiting any yellow man to be a citizen of the United States. Just what the government will do, remain to be seen, said Prof. Buell. "This subject is very interesting in the minds of the people today, and it is interesting to note what the outcome will lead to."

Saving Sense of Humor.

When the rehearsals for "As a Man Thinks" was in progress, Jake Shubert, who was laboring with the author, Augustus Thomas, in whipping the play into shape, was rather free with his suggestions about changes in the lines and scenes. At last, during a dramatic and very serious situation, Shubert said:

"Right here, now, I think we ought to have a little humor to lighten up the general effect."

"Very well," replied Thomas, after a long and heavy pause. "For instance?"

Then the play proceeded as the author had written it.—Popular Magazine.

The Evening Chit-Chat

ONE ROAD TO SUCCESS.

AN AMBITIOUS lad who was anxious to make a success in the world, not merely for himself but also for the sake of his widow mother, secured his first position with a big jewelry firm.

He was an unusually good worker, a beginner and he carried the news home to his mother in high feather. But the next night, after his first day at work, he came home disconsolate. His mother was greatly troubled at this change of mood. What was the matter? Was the work too hard? Didn't he understand it? She asked.

"No, it's not that," he retorted. "I should say not. It's too easy. Why, mother, what do you think I've been doing all day long? Stringing beads! I'm going to get out if there's much more of that. I'll never get ahead stringing beads."

"Son," said his mother, gravely. "I don't like to hear you speak like that. You will get ahead stringing beads if you string them just as well as it can possibly be done. It isn't a very big thing. I know, but I'm sure it can be done carelessly or well. You put your heart into stringing those beads just as well as you possibly can, son, and the future will look out for itself."

No, the boy doesn't own that jewelry business today. That was only eight years ago, and contrary to what some of our rich men would have us believe, it usually takes some other factors than hard work and economy for such fabulous rises. But he did rise as rapidly as any honest, ambitious, brainy young man without special privilege or opportunity can rise, and he does hold a responsible position today, and he does draw an ample salary which makes it possible for him to give his mother all the ease and comfort she so richly deserves. And if he holds to his present policy of doing everything that is given him as well as it can be done, there is every prospect that he will go much farther.

There is nothing that makes for success in one's work any more than that policy.

There is also nothing that makes for happiness in work any more than that. I used to dislike the cutting of grapefruit. I made up my mind that I would do it as it should be done. I bought a knife especially adapted to the purpose and made a kind of game out of seeing how skillfully I could prepare our morning grapefruit. Today I can cut a grapefruit perfectly and I love to do it.

"To do the common duty of each day uncomplainingly," says Scales, "that is success." It is also happiness.

CONDUCTED BY Mrs. Alice Mitchell Kirk

It hardly seems necessary to write a special recipe for shortcakes. If one knows how to make good baking powder biscuits, as all shortcakes are really founded upon this dough. There have been many variations from it within the last few years and sometimes it has been hard to recognize the good old-fashioned shortcake in the sweet but too much decorated dessert, called shortcakes. I do not believe most people like this sweet dough, but I will give a few kinds, so as to suit all tastes.

In making shortcakes where there is a helper in the kitchen, it is made and baked while the family are eating their dinner. Then it comes to the table fresh and warm and it will make a delicious. Where there is no one to assist in the cooking, the shortcake should be put into the oven when ready to serve the dinner.

Then it will come out of the oven when the meal is about half finished and it will take only a few moments to butter it, add the fruit, and it can be left in a warm place ready to serve at the proper time.

Fruit Should Be Ready. While preparing the dough, get all material ready for making the dough, baking powder and all other dry materials sifted into it; also the butter well cut into the flour. Then with the hand, it is only a question of very few minutes having in the oven. The fruit should also be ready. If berries, rinse quickly a few of them at a time through a sieve or colander; then null or pick them over, add sugar and set in a warm (not hot) place until ready to use.

There is hardly any fruit which can not be used for this tasty dessert, although strawberries seem to be the favorite, but raspberries, gooseberries, in fact all berries, peaches, canned cream and sprinkle a very little granulated sugar over the top and bake in a very quick oven. Do not add the prepared berries in between and on top. Garnish around the edge and in the center on top with whipped cream and whole berries.

Cup; T—Tablespoon; Tsp.—Teaspoon.

All measurements level unless otherwise stated. Flour sifted before measuring.

SOME PUDDINGS TO TRY.

A most delicious and simple pudding, which is just now brought to our minds as the fresh maple sugar is coming into the market, is prepared by making a rich biscuit dough. Spread it (after rolling out very thin) with butter, and sprinkle with a generous amount of grated maple sugar, roll up and cut in small pieces like cinnamon rolls; bake in a hot oven and serve with hot maple sirup and a little whipped cream.

Graham Pudding.—Mix together two-thirds of a cup of molasses, one-fourth of a cup of butter, one-half cup of sour milk, one well beaten egg, one-half teaspoon of soda and one and a half cups of graham flour. Bake and serve with a sauce made of a beaten egg added to a tablespoonful of cornstarch which has been cooked in a cup of boiling milk. Flavor with vanilla.

Roly-Poly Pudding.—Make a rich biscuit dough and roll it out to a fourth of an inch in thickness. Spread over it (leaving the edges uncovered) any kind of fruit, fresh, jelly or marmalade. Roll up the dough closely into a roll, pinch the ends and steam for an hour. Serve with any preferred pudding sauce.

Lemon Rice Pudding.—To one cupful of boiled rice add the rind of a lemon, two tablespoonfuls of butter, the yolks of three eggs and a pint of milk. Bake for twenty minutes. Beat the whites of the eggs, add a cup of sugar and the juice of a lemon, spread over the top of the pudding when done. Return to the oven to brown slightly.

Peach Shortcake.—Either fresh or canned peaches may be used for this recipe, of course the fresh fruit is always to be desired. Bake the cake and arrange, after being well buttered, with the peaches, then heap on a sauce made as follows: Bake a banana, add it to the well beaten white of an egg and two tablespoonfuls of sugar; flavor with vanilla, beat well and serve as a sauce. One banana to one egg white is sufficient for four individual shortcakes.

Every Day Talks For Every Day People...

Are we all so vitally interested in the formation of our Booster Club that we cannot be enthusiastic over the prospects of a Chautauque here this summer?

Right here I want to go on record as being strongly in favor of the Booster Club or any other project that tends to cause our city to forge ahead.

However a few words today will in no way hurt our Booster Club. It may rekindle the desire that I'm sure is in the minds of us all to make the Chautauque an assured thing.

Apartment from the fact that it would benefit all Janesville, our many smaller cities would also benefit by it. This paper aims to cater to the needs of the people, and otherwise, of these places.

Intelligent, idealistic, and to our audience, as can anywhere be found, and we can depend on our surrounding country and smaller cities to swell the audience of our coming Chautauque. The topic for debate on the last season that we were wise enough to have a Chautauque it puzzled one of our entering the tent to make sure of where one was. Evansville, Fort Atkinson, Hilton, Stoughton, Edgerton, Brodhead, Hanover, Fostville, to be exact, all of our surrounding towns were so liberally represented that looking at all the familiar faces from these outside towns, one was almost forced to say—"In what city are we now?"

The number of tickets that must be sold to insure our obtaining the Chautauque and the reasonable price of the same, should make its coming an established fact. If it were put to a vote as to our wanting it, the answer would easily carry. There is no doubt whatever as to that.

To land it let us apply business principles. Let us not sit calmly back and say, "Yes, I so wish we might have a Chautauque. I enjoy the last one so much, don't you know." The wishing wells have all gone dry. When a person wants a thing nowadays he gets out and hustles for it.

We, the Chautauque in a way that will leave no doubt in the minds of the promoters as to our sincerity. In a way that will impress them with the idea that Janesville may want many things, but first on the list comes the Chautauque.

We all admit that the work of disposing of the tickets is apparently an easy one. In a place of this size and with the territory we have to draw from, it is. Let us all see to it that we have a season ticket. We must show by our actions not words, that we intend to land that Chautauque.

We can talk 'til the crack of doom about what we'd like to have. If we don't make an effort to get it we'll

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

The Table. French Cucumber Sauce—Pare the cucumbers and cut in one-fourth inch slices, and slices in cubes; then cover with a French dressing. This goes well with fried fish.

Sunday Night Dish.—Cut cold boiled potatoes in half-inch slices, and then cut slices in half-inch cubes; there should be one-half cup of cubed potatoes. Add one hard-boiled egg, finely chopped, one-fourth tablespoon of finely chopped onion, and one can of tomato, drained, dried on a towel, and cut in thin strips. Moisten with salad dressing and serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Canned Rhubarb.—Pick out stalks of about the same degree of ripeness. Clean and wash them. Cut up in small pieces, about one-half inch thick. Pack in a glass jar and fill up with cold water and seal same as any other fruit.

Strawberry Sponge.—Make a pint of strawberry jelly, flavoring it with fresh fruit, and set aside to cool. When thick, beat one egg white to a froth with an egg-beater, then fold in lightly half a pint of cream, whipped and sweetened, and pour into a mold to harden. When firm, cut and decorate with fresh strawberries.

Veal Loaf.—(This is one of our choicest meat recipes.) Three pounds veal, cut in small pieces, 1 1/2 pounds lean pork, three raw eggs, one pint bread crumbs, one-half nutmeg, butter size of egg, four hard-boiled eggs. Boil veal and pork together until they fall to pieces, leaving one and one-half pints stock. Season well with salt and pepper while cooking. Then lift the meat out on platter, and strain the stock. Remove all fat and grease the meat, place the hard-boiled eggs through the center, end to end, and mold the rest of the meat over the eggs. Pour the remaining stock over the loaf and bake in moderate oven one hour.

Sweet Muffins.—Three eggs beaten separately, half cup sugar, two cups flour, one cup sweet milk, two teaspoons baking powder. Bake immediately in muffin tins.

Fruit Salad.—Take one-half package gelatin, dissolve in one-half cup cold water, and one pint boiling water, one cup sugar, juice of one lemon, two oranges cut in small pieces, two bananas sliced, one cup nut meats. Set in cool place all firm.

Dressing.—One egg white beaten to a froth. Grate one apple and add one-half cup sugar. Beat all together thoroughly. Put this on salad when firm.

The gardens are all planted, and now the students must wait for the weeds to grow. The soil is in good condition. There are twenty-five gardens, each nine feet by twelve feet.

Two members of the Junior class, mimeographed a circular letter for the county superintendent on Friday about two hundred copies.

Some new electric lights have been installed in the hallways and in the new kitchen.

Miss Grace E. Burdick who has been giving instruction in the training school during the past three months, completes her work this week and goes to her home at Easton, Wisconsin, on Saturday.

Miss Burdick's assistance, has been of much value to the school.

Besides the student body the following persons were present Thursday evening: Superintendent and Mrs. D. D. Antisdel, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Moore, E. A. Cleveland, Mrs. F. J. Lovitt, and Miss Sadie Clapp, the new deputy county superintendent of schools.

The new kitchen is now well equipped with cupboards, tables, gas range, Caloric cooker, sink, a set of dishes, cooking utensils, etc.

The commencement exercises are planned to occur at 10:30 o'clock, Thursday, June 12, and the Alumni banquet to follow at 12:00 noon.

The practice teaching is practically finished and its success has been due in no small measure to the cooperation of the grade teachers in the Jefferson building.

The young teachers have received very much benefit. Miss Jacobson has devoted her time to the supervision and practice.

Country teachers would find these books of value: Gillian's Arithmetic in the Common School, Kellogg's School Management, Teller's Brown's Business Methods, Everett's Ethics for Young People.

Good for the Children

There's a wealth of health in every can of Rona Cocoa. It's good for growing children—invigorating—nutritious—muscle-building.

Rona Cocoa is made in Holland by the old Dutch process. The indigestible fibre is taken out, freeing it from sediment—making it cooking delicious. That's why Rona Cocoa dissolves instantly in boiling water. No trouble to make it.

VAN HOUTEN'S RONA DUTCH COCOA

Best of all Rona Cocoa costs only half as much as do medicated cocoas because it goes twice as far. You use only one-half a teaspoonful to the cup. It's economical—a 25c can makes 64 cups. Children like it—it's a nourishing food.

Ask your grocer for Rona—the Dutch Cocoa in the big red can. Use it as a beverage or for cakes, puddings, soups, or Dutch chocolate flavor. Two Sizes: 10c and 25c.

Health and Beauty Advice

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Annette: (1) Sometimes a druggist endeavors to discourage the making of home remedies because he knows that they will be his business. I never suggest the use of anything that is not sold in first-class pharmacies. (2) To make kidney sprays, blood-tonic and liver-remedy get 1 ounce of karoene, mix it with 1-2 cupful of sugar and add 1-2 pint of alcohol and 1-2 pints of hot water. This formula makes a quart of tonic, of which you should take 1 tablespoonful 15 minutes before each meal and before retiring, as an aperient tonic this has no superior. It will restore your lost appetite and tend to strengthen and build you up. It purifies blood and your pimples and ugly blotches will soon disappear.

Virgilia: A good "liquid-powder" or face-wash which when on seems a part of the skin is made by dissolving a ounce of spermacin in 1-2 pint of hot water or witch hazel and adding 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This home-made complexion-beautifier whitens the skin without the use of powder and is particularly recommended for the use of anyone who has a sallow, dark or oily skin.

Constance: To remove dandruff and stop falling hair, apply once a week a color hair-tonic made by dissolving 1 ounce of salicylic acid in 1 pint of alcohol, adding 1-2 pint of cold water. Rub into the scalp and hair with the finger tips until absorbed. This treatment will promote the growth of hair and tend to make it luxuriant and glossy. (See answer to Molly.)

Molly: It is not necessary to shampoo the hair oftener than twice a month. If you use a shampoo that will thoroughly cleanse the hair and scalp, and if you use a shampoo that makes the head feel good and helps the hair to grow, you need not shampoo so often. This home-made complexion-beautifier whitens the skin without the use of powder and is particularly recommended for the use of anyone who has a sallow, dark or oily skin.

TERRIBLE ITCHING AND BURNING

Scalp Eczema for About Five Years. Form of Ringworm. Thick, Rough Scale. Entirely Well After Using Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

Therapist, Mo.—"I was troubled with scalp eczema for about five years and tried everything I heard of but all of no avail. The doctors told me I would have to have my head shaved. Being a woman I hated the idea of that."

"I was told by a friend that the Cuticura Remedies would do me good. This spring I purchased two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap. After using one box of Cuticura Ointment I considered the cure permanent, but continued to use it to make sure and used about one-half the other box. Now I am entirely well. I also used the Cuticura Soap."

"The disease began on the back of my head, taking the form of a ringworm only more severe, rising to a thick, rough scale that would come off when soaked with oil or warm water, bringing a few hairs each time, but in a few days would form again, larger each time, and spreading until the entire back of the head was covered with a terrible itching and burning sensation. Now my head is completely well and my hair growing nicely." (Signed) Mrs. G. F. Clark, Mar. 25, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Are You Subject to Constipation

Here is a Simple Way of Correcting It Instantly Before it Becomes Chronic.

MRS. G. B. PRUITT.

Very few people go through life without some time or other being troubled with constipation. Thousands injure themselves by the use of strong cathartics, salt mineral waters, pills and similar things. They have temporary value in some cases, it is true, but the good effect is soon lost, and the more one takes of them the less effective they become.

A physic or purgative is seldom necessary, and much better and more permanent results can be obtained by using a scientific remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It does not hide behind a high sounding name, but is what it is represented to be, a mild laxative medicine. It is so mild that thousands of mothers give it to their infants, and yet it is so compounded, and contains such definite ingredients that it will have equally good effect when used by a person suffering from the worst chronic constipation. In fact, among the greatest endorsers of Syrup Pepsin are elderly people who have suffered for years and found nothing to benefit them until they took Syrup Pepsin.

It is a fact that millions of families have Syrup Pepsin constantly in the house, homes like those of Mrs. G. B. Pruitt, Berea, Ky., who used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin as a laxative tonic. Mrs. Pruitt writes that it so strengthened and cleansed her system that she was quickly relieved of a severe cough which had troubled her for months. The special value of this grand laxative tonic is that it is suited to the needs of every member of the family. It is pleasant-tasting, mild and non-gripping. Unlike harsh physics it works gradually and in a very brief time the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to do their work naturally again, when all medicines can be dispensed with.

You can obtain a bottle at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is usually bought by families who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

A common sight in a London street is an advertisement for So-and-So's painless extractions for a shilling a tooth.

In Japan, however, the native dentists conduct their business in a manner which would cause the European practitioner to open his eyes.

So great is the skill of these professors that they can remove seven or eight teeth in a minute.

OR, THE CAUSE OF COMPROMISE

By EMERSON HOUGH

He turned a scorched and half blind face toward her. "Ever since I was a boy, you might say," said he. "Even before my father and mother died. We kept our own counsel. We ran away, we two children. They counseled me against it. My people didn't like the match, but I wouldn't listen. It came like some sort of judgment. Not long after we were married it came—the dreadful accident, with a runaway team—and we saw, we knew—in a little while—that she simply lived like a child—a plant. That was ten years ago, ten centuries—10,000 years of torture. But I kept her. I shielded her the best I knew how. That was her place, yonder, where the bags were—you see. Nobody knew any more. It's all alone, back in here. Some said there was a funeral out here. Jamieson didn't deny it. I did not deny it. But she lived—there! Sally took care of her. Sometimes she or the others were careless. You heard, once or twice. Well, anyway, I couldn't tell you. It didn't seem right to her. And you were big enough not to ask. I thank you! Now you know."

Still she was silent. They dropped down, now weary, side by side, on the grass. "Now you see into one bit of a human heart, don't you?" said he bitterly. The gray dawn showed his distorted and wounded face—scarred, blackened, burned—as at length he tried to look at her. "I did the best I knew. I knew it wasn't right to feel as I did toward you—to talk as I did—but I couldn't help it. I tell you, I just couldn't help it! I can't help it now. But I don't think it's wrong now, even here. I was starved. When I saw you—well, you know the rest. I have got nothing to say. It would be no use for me to explain. I make no excuses for myself. I have got to take my medicine. Anyhow, part of it—part of it is wiped out."

"It is wiped out," she repeated simply. "The walls that stood there, all of them, are gone. It is the act of fate, of God! I had not known how awful a thing is life. It is all-wiped away by fire. Those walls!"

"But not my sins, not my selfishness, not the wrong I have done! Even all that has happened to me or may happen to me wouldn't be punishment enough for that. Now you ask me if you were not my friend? Of course you are not. How could you be?"

"It would be easier now than ever before," she said. But he shook his head.

"I don't know. There are a heap of things I don't know. But I knew I loved you. It was forever. That was what was meant to be. It seemed to me I owed debts on every hand—to the world to you. I tried—tried to pay—to pay you fair, ache for ache, if I could for the hurts I'd given you. And you wouldn't let me. You were wonderful. Before the throne of God—here—now. I'll say it, I love you! But now it's over."

"You have courage, the large courage," she answered quietly. "Haven't you been showing it by your very silence? You will be brave. You are just beginning. You have changed many things in your life of late."

"I have never changed very much in some ways."

"You have suffered a great deal," she said simply. "You have lost very much. You are no longer a boy. You are a man now. You've changed because you are a man. And it wasn't done for any reward."

"No, maybe not. In some ways I don't think just the way I used to. But the savage—the brute in me is there just the same. I don't want to do what is right. I don't want to know what is right. I only want to do what I want to do. What I covet, I covet. What I love, I love. What I want, I want. That is all. And yet, just a minute ago you were telling me you would be a friend! Not to a man like that! It wouldn't be right."

She made no answer. The races or both were now turned toward the gray dawn beyond the hills. It was some moments before he turned to her. "But you and I—just you and I, together, thinking the way we both do, seeing what we both see—the splendid sadness and the glory of living and loving—and being what we both are! Oh, it all comes back to me I tell you, and I say I have not changed. What couldn't you and I have done together? Ah! Nothing could have stopped us!"

"What could we not have done?" she repeated slowly. "I've done so little—in the world—alone."

Something in her tone caught his ear, his senses, overstrung, vibrating to exquisite susceptibility, capable at most of hearing thought that dared not be thought. He turned his blackened face, bent toward her, looking into her face with an intensity which almost annihilated the human limitations of flesh and blood. It was as though his soul heard something in hers and turned to answer it, to demand its repetition.

"Did you say, could have done?" he demanded.

She did not answer, and he went on. "Listen!" he said in his old, imperious way. "What couldn't we do together in the world, for the world—even now?"

For a long time there was silence. At last a light hand fell upon the brown and blistered one which he had thrust out.

"Do you think so?" he heard gentle voice reply.

THE END.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

(By Howard L. Rann.)

DEAFNESS is a melancholy affliction which is sometimes a blessing in disguise, as it enables people to make a lot of conversation which they couldn't make any use of. A person who is hard of hearing can go to a dinner party and attend strictly to the menu, with a side-track of deafness.

Deafness is caused by a failure of the ear drum to respond to the long roll, and may be due either to a puncture or lack of a belt tightener on the sound waves. The process of hearing is well known, is caused by the waves of sound striking in the drum of the ear and bounding back in the form of thought. When the ear drum is punctured, the sound waves pass on through to the other ear and escape with a loud "hey!"

Deafness causes its devotees to break into the conversation at unexpected intervals with post modern remarks upon subjects that have been thoroughly thrashed out. When a deaf man attends lodge he is liable to break out in the middle of the obligation with some wholly irrelevant remark concerning the likely qualities of a sorrel colt which can be heard by the outer guard with the door closed. Church services are frequently interrupted by deaf brethren who express their opinion of the choir with great freedom and the full use of their vocal chords.

A great many people retain complete command of their ears until they are old age, when all of a sudden one ear will quit working entirely and force them to edge around nervously to the windward side when addressed by anyone outside of the family. However, this is a great advantage when seated next to a dinner partner who can't think of anything to say except obfuscated inanities, which the deaf ear disposes of with the utmost ease.

People who are deaf also have another advantage in not being able to hear a request from the pulpit to raise their missionary contribution. A great many people become totally deaf on these occasions and also have their eyesight affected to such an extent that they can't recognize the collection plate.

"CURED MY BOY OF CROUP AND BUILT UP BOTH THE CHILDREN"—WRITES MOTHER

"I have used two bottles of Father John's medicine and found wonderful results. My children are subject to bronchitis and when they get a cough bronchitis generally follows and then I have to call my doctor. They started with croup and I saw Father John's medicine advertised and thought I would try it. I gave them the medicine and cured my boy's croup in one night. When I had tried everything else but without success, it cured both of them of the cough and they had no more trouble. I think it is making them strong. I really would not be without Father John's medicine. I think any one who is troubled with bronchitis and will take Father John's medicine faithfully will find relief." (Signed) Mrs. B. J. Forty Years Ago

Jansville Daily Gazette, May 13.—Decorated Day: The committee appointed at a former meeting to make the necessary arrangements for Decoration Day, assembled at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association last evening. Upon consultation Dr. H. Palmer was elected president of the day. Col. Z. P. Burdick and Major Cobb, vice presidents, and Capt. Pliny Norcross was decided on to have the honor of being orator of the day.

It will be necessary at next meeting to appoint a committee on carriages and also to designate ladies to take charge of the decorating procession and to receive and prepare flowers for their use. This was done last year by giving those on the general committee authority to appoint such sub-committees as they needed.

Mrs. Van Cott made her first appearance in Jansville at the First M. E. church last night, the audience room of the structure being comfortably filled. With her characteristic industry she began her work by exhorting sinners to give up their wickedness and become good.

Dr. Van Velck exhibited his spiritual demonstration to rather a small crowd last night. But to gratify the curiosity of those present to gain an insight into the mysteries of "harping," giving a thorough exposure of many incomprehensible transactions. The Doctor does not feel warranted by his patronage to continue his services.

KING OF TRAMPS RETURNS TO LA CROSSE AFTER ABSENCE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

La Crosse, May 13.—After an absence of eight months during which time he has been visiting in various parts of the state, George Gordon, known as king of tramps, made his semi-annual visit to the local police station and asked for a night's lodging. Gordon has visited the city twice a year since 1864. August Haehl, the oldest policeman on the force in point of service, has known Gordon for 26 years. The king has never divided his history or given any trouble beyond asking for a night's rest.

The Daily Novelties

THE CASE OF INK

One swallow makes not a summer, but every cricket makes a spring; humming birds are always humming, canary birds don't always sing. The great detective sat thoughtfully combing his violin when the door was disturbed by a knock and an excited little man entered. The great detective knelt at a glance that he was little and he deduced that he was excited by the way he jumped around.

"For the love Mike help me," exclaimed the stranger in perfect English. "For weeks I have been haunted by a fear that I am a murderer, yet for the life of me I can't remember killing anybody for at least ten years. But look at these hands!"

He held out two of his hands. The fingers were blood red.

"The little man shivered." "Those blood!" he shuddered.

"The great detective thoughtfully put his violin in his pocket.

"You are a printer by profession, are you not?" he asked gently. The little man was obviously amazed.

"Yes," he replied.

"And you dabble considerably with red ink, do you not?"

"The little man looked down at his hands and suddenly understood everything. Clapping the great detective's hand in heartfelt gratitude and offering him a thirteen-cent cigar, he went back to work.

DIPPY-DOPE

If a tramp can cut a load of wood in an hour, how much could a lamb chop? Or do pots grow on a pantry?

Weak Sickly Ailing Women

What more can we do to convince you that you positively can find perfect health and relief from your suffering by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? All the world knows of the wonderful cures which have been made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, yet some women do not yet realize that all that is claimed for it is true.

If suffering women could be made to believe that this grand old medicine will do all that is claimed for it, how quickly their suffering would end!

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women in the world—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true.

Read What These Women Say!

Bluffton, Ohio.—"I wish to thank you for the good I derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound sometime ago. I suffered each month such agony that I could scarcely endure, and after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely cured."

"Then I had an attack of organic inflammation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am cured. I thank you for what your remedies have done for me and should anything bother me again, I shall use it again, for I have great faith in your remedies. You may use my testimonial and welcome. I tell every one what your remedies have done for me."—Mrs. R. W. Wink, Box 395, Bluffton, Ohio.

Pentwater, Mich.—"A year ago I was very weak and the doctor said I had a serious displacement. I had backache and bearing down pains so bad that I could not sit in a chair or walk across the floor and I was in severe pain all the time. I felt discouraged as I had taken everything I could think of and was no better. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am strong and healthy."—Mrs. Alice Darling, R. F. D. No. 2, Box 77, Pentwater, Mich.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs. It has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., CONFIDENTIAL, LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
